

LOCAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lee and son, Wm., Jr., of Whitwell, spent the Fourth here.

Stanley Hynes left Thursday for Cincinnati, Ohio., to visit his grandparents.

Miss Louise Kent, of Chattanooga, is here this week, the guest of Mildred Hill.

W. R. Turner and family went to So. Pittsburg Monday afternoon to see the ball game.

Miss Pauline Alder, of near Oak Grove, has been here visiting her cousins, the Misses Lasater.

Mrs. J. H. Moore, and son, Hayes, and little daughter, Ruth, were in Sequachee Sunday afternoon.

A. B. Cargile, editor of the Bridgeport News, was here Tuesday and paid this office a friendly call.

Misses Beulah and Ann Martin, of Battle Creek, were here last week, visiting friends and relatives.

W. V. Amos, Jasper, is a recent subscriber to the News. He is watchman at the Pryor Garage and Hosiery Mills.

Mrs. Rebecca Boss and children of Chattanooga, arrived Tuesday evening to visit her aunt, Mrs. Jas. Ford.

A. J. Martin, an old resident this section, says he can't do without the News, and accordingly sends $1.50 therefor.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Turner and son, Wayman Turner, wife and children, of Jasper, took dinner at the hall Sunday, along with the other picnickers.

J. E. Rich, R. 4, St. Elmo, was here Monday, looking business-like as usual. He handed the News man a cartwheel for eight months of this banner of wisdom for which he has our thanks.

Marion Kilgore of near Victoria was here Thursday and visited the News long enough to show his appreciation of an American newspaper by continuing his subscription another year.

F. W. Leland took his daughter, Mrs. Ruth de Sabla, to Nashville Monday for medical treatment. Mrs. de Sabla's health has been poor for sometime and she has gone to take treatment.

E. O. Walker, of Limestone, Tenn., who is in the real estate business in this section, accompanied by Miss Nell Leland, of this place, and J. H. Moore and daughter, Miss Katharine, of Jasper, motored to Athens, Tenn., where they visited relatives of the Moores over Sunday.

Gilbert Pryor, wife and baby were here Monday, visiting relatives. Mr. Pryor left Tuesday for Superior, Wyoming, where he will obtain employment. Mr. and Mrs. Pryor have purchased a home in Whitwell, but can make better wages in the west, where they have been before. Mrs. Pryor will join him in about two months.

FARMERS STATE BANK OPEN FOR BUSINESS

The Farmers State Bank opened for business at Jasper Thursday. The special Bank Examiner, Hugh Crumbliss, said that he had never before found a new bank in such a good condition as far as its organization and funds were concerned, and this speaks well for the management, Messrs. Moore, Roberson and Pryor. The cashier is R. M. Smith, of Tullahoma, a most pleasant gentleman.

The H. C. L. puts no change on the people up here. Each fellow is out for a good time. Shadrick Hill had an all-day service and dinner on the ground the 4th. There was a large crowd and an abundance to eat. Bro. Ferrill Tate preached to them, the children deported themselves nicely and the crowd was generally orderly. Coal-mont kind of fell down in accommodation and the comfort of the people. No seats were prepared but an extra large number put in their appearance. It was the largest crowd I was ever in and less doing. It seems the whole scheme was to sell ice cream and dope. I guess they fished for suckers and caught them. It was graft pure and simple. Well, the people rather enjoy being humbugged. I got a splendid dinner under the shade of a big oak tree at Clabe Parsons. Mrs. Parsons sure is a fine cook and takes pains with her cooking. Women who take pains in preparing the food the family eats are never bothered with stomach trouble in their families. Inferior cooking has sent hundreds to an early grave.

Miss Ellen Powell won the prize at the picnic for throwing the ball, one dollar cash, and the farmers' ball team won the victory.

Elihu Fuels, the preacher, says he will be at Pinesett Sunday, and asked me to announce it thru the News. On Saturday night before the second Sunday in August he will be at Oak Grove, Battle Creek.

I don't know whether the people can take time to go to church and thank God for what he is doing for them, all too busy having a good time, the best times this country has ever seen. Every fellow is getting by with very little labor, dressing nice and has money to ride in parlor cars, no hoboing. Hurrah for our government, the best we ever had. We are not beholden to the money power, altho' they are flinching because they have to pay their tax. Pay it is my motto. Uncle Tom.

Big Lick

Special to the News.

Sunday, June 27th, was a great day at Big Lick. Children's Day was a decided success. Rev. Jas. Davenport, formerly of the valley, but now of Alabama, preached at interesting sermon at Parham's Chapel, July 4th in connection with Children's day. Willis Kerley and Rebecca Webb, of Vandever, were united in marriage the 4th at the home of Rev. J. B. Cobble.

Mrs. M. J. Hale has returned home after spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Burgess, of Winesap.

Mrs. T. S. Randolph and children, of Big Lick, spent the 4th with her sister, Mrs. J. B. Cobble.

Quite a number of people from this place attended Children's Day at Parham Chapel. All seemed to enjoy themselves and got plenty to eat.

Wake up, Ketchall, and come on with your news for the News. Come on, Uncle Tom, with your interesting letters.

May Bee.

Mrs. M. E. Barker and children, of So. Pittsburg, were here Tuesday.

We Must Think and We Must Work

BY JOHN WANAMAKER

The great war over the ocean made us wiser and braver, but walking around and talking about it will not add to the products that are scarce nor drive down prices that are high.

We get strong by discipline and we grow by using our strength upon a fixed purpose.

It was a gloomy school that cut off their feet millions of working men and laid low their strong skilled serviceable hands.

The world is much poorer for their talking off.

Something must be done quickly to meet these deplorable conditions.

More machinery must be set going and longer days and nights of fairly paid labor must be found or more of our Liberty and Victory bonds will have to be eaten up by high prices so slowly receding.

So long as any of us live in the cold region of the shortest hours of work and the largest pay we shall not get far ahead.

Concentration to produce more of the world's needs will, in the end, bring about the permanency of wages.

Not to be thinking all the way along of how much work is left undone will only keep up the pinch.

HISTORICAL ITEM.

"How's this for a tribute to old King Solomon," said the street Corner Idler, as he handed the following clipping which was headed "Bobby's Essay," to Editor Schmied of the Dakota City (Neb.) Eagle:

King Solumn waz a man who lived so many years in the country that he waz the hole push. He wuz a offel wise guy and 1 day 2 wimmen came to him each one holding the leg of a babie and nerely pulling the kid in 2 and clameing it, and King Sol was cross and sed, "why cuddent the brat ben twinz and stopt this mixup." Then he calld for his sworde 2 splitt this innocent little kid so each ov the wimmen cud hav 1, when the reel ma of the baibe but in and sez. "Stopp, Solumn, stay thi hand, and let the old hagg hav the kid, for if I can'tt have a hole kid I don'tt want anny." King Solumn then told her 2 take the baiby and go home and wash its face for he waz hep it was hers, and told the other daime to go chais herself. King Solumn wuz father of the masens and bilt Solumn's temple. He had 700 wifes and more than 300 laiddy frens, and that is why there is so many masens in the world. Pa sez King Solumn wuz a warm member and I think he waz hot stuf myself.

BIRD CRIES

By MINNA IRVING
In the New York Sun-Herald

The bobolink says, "Tiddlewink,"
The catbird says, "Meow."
Between his love songs to his mate
Upon a leafy bough.
The little wren says "Babies mine,"
With sweet and twitter cheery.
The oriole says, "Honey dear,"
But the Robin he says, "Dearie."
The spotted thrush says, "Cherry ripe,"
The cuckoo says, "More rain,"
The sparrow says, "Knock off your block!"
The dove says, "I complain,"
The quail says, "Bob White" all day long
And never seems to weary,
And the magpie says, "I toll you so,"
But the robin he says, "Dearie."

Organized Labor In The Platform

From the Chicago Tribune.

How can conservative labor expect serious consideration for its demands when its leaders are guilty of such garbling of a party pronouncement as Mr. Gompers and Mr. Woll's report of the Republican plank on labor?

This report alleges that the plank "denies the right to strike."

The assertion is a flat falsehood in effect. The plank does deny the right to strike against the government. Every rational implication from the rest of the plank is recognition of the right to strike.

The report asserts the plank proposes 'industrial enslavement' and an abrogation of rights as precious as life itself.

If to deny policemen and firemen or other public employees the right to paralyze the functions of government and leave society without protection is enslavement then indeed the plank declares for enslavement. We do not think intelligent labor is ready to defend any such theory. If it could establish such a doctrine it would endanger its own welfare for manual labor would suffer as much as any other class from the chaos which must follow the strike against government.

The plank recognizes collective bargaining and does not deny the right to strike in private industrial controversy. It does deplore the waste of strikes and lockouts and urges the creation of more and better means of voluntary adjustment, of giving employees prompt and impartial means of getting their claims heard and fairly decided, and thus of bringing about the just advancement of labor by the least wasteful methods.

If such proposals are "turning its back on labor," then labor expects something more than any other class of citizens would ask for itself.

But we do not think Mr. Gompers and Mr. Woll express the real opinion of the wage earner on this plank. Mr. Gompers is a partisan Democrat, who has been highly honored by the present administration. His report shows that he cannot be fair or is not willing to be fair toward the Republican platform. There are hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of wage earners who are not partisan Democrats, who in fact, in party matters, are Republicans, and these we believe will resent Mr. Gompers' distortion of the Republican plank on labor, which expresses views any fair minded wage earner may respect and approve.

NO QUITTING WANTED.

A bashful young woman was suing her ex-sweetheart for breach of promise, and the defending counsel was asking her all sorts of impertinent questions. "You say," he asked, "that the defendant sat very close to you?"

"Yes sir,"
"How close?"
"Close enough so's one chair was all the sitting room we needed."
"And you say he put his arms around you?"
"No I didn't."
"What did you say, then?"
"I said he put both arms around me."
"Very hard?"
"Yes, he did. So hard that I came purty near hollerin' right out!"
"Why didn't you holler?"
"Cause I was afeard he'd stop!"
